

BELFOR FRANCHISE GROUP ACQUIRES 'THE PATCH BOYS®'

BELFOR Franchise Group (BFG), the world's largest residential and commercial services franchise group recently acquired The Patch Boys®, America's first and most-trusted drywall repair company.

The Patch Boys® was started by founder and CEO Leo Goldberger in 2006 and began franchising in 2015. In five years, they've grown to 96 units across 20 states in the U.S. Their core services include drywall repair and installation, ceiling and plaster repair, and popcorn ceiling removal. Their strong reputation in the construction industry, fast-yet-reliable response, high-quality work and exceptional customer service make their services perfectly complementary to the services that other BFG's brands offer.

"We are so glad The Patch Boys are now part of the BELFOR Family of brands." said Sheldon Yellen, CEO of BELFOR. "This business model provides a unique opportunity for franchisees and entrepreneurs to continue to grow their businesses all while helping customers in their time of need."

The acquisition of The Patch Boys® makes it the ninth franchise brand within BFG along with the following growing franchise brands in the home and commercial services industry:

- 1-800 WATER DAMAGE
